Have we sent this presentation with an explanation onto Nancy yet?

Glossed over those entitled Lessons Learned from GKM; however the talking points I made in speaking mentioned the importance of an emergency action plan and I paraphrased from the public version of the internal GKM investigation report. I think the paraphrasing was general enough to stay within the bounds of the Woolford memo as advised by David Gray. My take-away point was that Standard Mine already had an EAP many weeks prior to the GKM event and that the Standard Mine Site team intended to conduct an emergency communication exercise to test our satellite phone and the validity of our local officials' phone contact list.

Hi, Jim.

Just for our clarification, did you use the slides that discussed the GKM incident at the meeting?

Thanks,

Cynthia

These are the talking points projected on a screen that I used to discuss the status of the Standard Mine Site and the issues we are addressing to compensate for the lost time during the work cessation. I observed the guidelines provided by the Woolford memo to Superfund Program Managers (4 September 2015) as you advised.

It went well. No concerns. No follow up needed, though there is some interest from some SMAG members for a tour this fall. Jim and I will see if that's feasible and when. I don't think we'll need to brief the Town Council again this year.

Hi, Jim and Christina.

How did the presentation to the Crested Butte City Council go last night? Anything we need to follow up on?

Thanks!
